读短文，回答下列问题：

HONESTY IS THE BEST POLICY

Elena was not a good student. Her head was in the clouds most of the time. She wanted to listen in class and to study, but other things were more important: her boyfriend, her clothes, her hairstyle, and television. Every time she tried to concentrate on her lesson, her mind wandered.

One day, her English teacher, Mrs. Frederickson, announced an important test. She reviewed all week. Where was Elena? She seemed to be there, but her mind was absent.

"Did you copy the questions? Did you do the exercises? Did you write your homework? Elena, wake up! You're going to fail the test," warned Mrs. Frederickson.

The day of the test arrived. Elena didn't study very much, and she didn't know many questions. She tried to guess but soon gave up.

Next to Elena sat Ivan, a very serious student. Elena didn't want to fail the test, so she decided to cheat. She knew it was wrong, but she was desperate. She began to copy all of Ivan's answers.

Ivan noticed Elena cheating and was very angry. Quickly he changed all his answers so that they were incorrect. So did Elena. Then, hiding his paper, he quickly changed his answers back to the way they were. Elena wasn't quick enough and the bell rang. Ivan turned to Elena and laughed.

"Honesty is the best policy," he said. "Now all your answers are wrong for sure."
